THE COMING PRIMARIES

Registration in Glendale and Tropico Precincts—A Few Recommendations

REGISTRATION OF VOTERS.

Glendale City, 492. Registered as Republicans, 347; Democrats, 70; Prohibitionists, 35; Socialists, 13; no party, 27.

Tropico Precinct No. 1, registered, 190. Precinct No. 2, 473. Precinct No. 1, Tropico, is that section adjoining Glendale City on the west, above Fourth street, and extending around the municipality on the north and east. No. 2 includes everything south of Fourth street, around to the Los Angeles city limits, west to the Burbank ranch boundary. No count was made of the party registration in the Tropico precincts, but the party proportions will be about as in Glendale, except that probably the Socialists will gain somewhat. In glancing through the register, it is noticeable that a few well-known Prohibitionists are registered as Republicans, but the party alignment is generally not much interfered with.

One feature of the primary law which is to be tried for the first time next Tuesday needs explanation. Some voters appear to have an idea that they can vote for names which appear on other than the party ticket. For instance, that they can cast a ballot for a Republican for one office, then skip down the line and vote for a Democrat. But an examination of the sample ballot will show that this is an impossibility. The voter is handed the ballot of the party he calls for, and no names appear on that ballot except those of that party. He could write in the name of another party's candidate, but the vote would be of no service to the candidate voted for, as it cannot be added to a vote appearing on another party ticket. For instance, the name of Theodore Bell, the Democratic candidate for governor, might be written on any number of Republican tickets, but that number could not be added to the votes given him on his own or any other ticket. In brief, the party ticket voted at the primary takes the place of the convention held under the old system, and the name of any person appearing thereon appears as a candidate of the party represented by that ticket.

The vote on United States senator is, of course, only advisory, and it remains to be seen whether the legislators will consider themselves bound by the result of the ballot, as the law leaves it optional with them "to vote either for the choice of their respective districts, expressed at said primary election, or for the candidate for United States senator who shall have received the endorsement of their party in the greatest number of districts electing members of such party to the legislature."

The polls for the primary on Tuesday next will be open from 6 a. m. to 6 p. m. In Glendale the election will be held on Fourth street, second door from the northwest corner.

THE NEWS has but few recommendations to make to the voters; they are as follows: for governor, P. A. Stanton; associate justice Supreme Court, C. D. Wilbur; M. C. Sloss; controller, A. B. Nye; state senator, Lee C. Gates; assemblyman, H. G. Cattell or Gideon S. Case; sheriff, W. A. Hammel; railroad commissioner, John Eshleman; county clerk, C. G. Keyes; assessor, Ed W. Hopkins; superior court, Gavin W. Crais; W. R. Hervey; congress, James McLachlan; tax collector, W. O. Welch. As for the remainder of the ticket, there are a lot of good names on it no doubt but their claims are equally divided as far as our knowledge goes. It will be seen from the above that our preference is not for either faction of the Republican party, but that the attempt is made to select candidates who have demonstrated their fitness, as all of the above named have done.

PEEBLES-WATSON.

Popular Young People Wedded.

The First M. E. church was filled last Tuesday evening upon the occasion of the marriage of Mr. John Adair Peebles and Miss Mary Edith Watson. Mr. Peebles is a young Los Angeles business man and the young lady, who is a Native Daughter, and has spent nearly all of her life in Glendale, has a large circle of friends.

The church was beautifully decorated in white, pink and green, there being a generous display of potted plants and flowers around the altar. Mrs. Charles Edward Bailey presided at the organ. Previous to the ceremony Mr. Edward Kay sang "O Promise Me." Organ selections were the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin and the Wedding March of Mendelssohn. The ring ceremony of the church was performed by Rev. J. H. Humphrey. Mr. Olin Thompson of Los Angeles acted as best man; Miss Alice Watson, maid of honor; Misses Mary Tarr and Nettie Watson, bridesmaids, while little Eunice McConnell made a very pretty flower girl. All of the ladies carried bouquets of white, except the maid of honor who had pink carnations. The bride wore white messaline with veil, the maid of honor pink silk mull, the bridesmaids light blue mull while the little flower girl was gowned in pink silk. Messrs. G. H. Barager, Kenneth Barager and Ray Sherman acted as ushers. After the ceremony the happy couple and a large party of friends assembled at the home of the bride's parents in the Watson block and a merry time ensued. The bridegroom was handcufted and the company liberally showered with rice. When the time for taking auto for Los Angeles arrived, the machine had disappeared, but it came up at the last possible moment and "All went merry as a marriage bell." The young couple left on Wednesday for Colorado and upon their return will be at home in Los Angeles. The wedding gifts were numerous and among them were many articles of real usefulness to young housekeepers.

PACIFIC TELEPHONE CONNECTS UP TWO HOME COMPANIES.

Negotiations have been consummated whereby the two Home Telephone Companies located at Whittier and Downey have been added to the already extensive system of the Pacific Telephone Company. By means of toll connections, over fifteen hundred additional subscribers, located in Whittier, Downey, Rivera, Norwalk, Artesia, Los Nietos, East Whittier, Santa Fe Springs, La Habra and Rincon, as well as all intervening territory, are given access to over eighty-five thousand subscribers of the Pacific Company in Southern California, and vice versa, any subscriber on the Pacific Company's system may now have direct communication with all telephone patrons at those points.

Connections of this kind, following similar arrangements made recently with the telephone companies located at Monrovia, Duarte, Huntington Beach, Corona, Redlands, Hemet, Temecula, San Jacinto, Banning, Beaumont, Elsinore and Perris, give to the public added confirmation of the Pacific Company's plans for improvement in its service connections and its desire to furnish Southern California with universal telephone service.

DINNER PARTY.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Appenfelder gave a dinner party last Saturday. The following were guests: Mrs. B. C. Daggett, Miss Cecil Daggett, Mrs. Ashlew Sherward, Mr. Charles Reed of Los Angeles; Mr. L. P. and C. F. Newhill of Lancaster; Mr. A. L. George of New York.

CITY TRUSTEES

Considerable Discussion—Report of Lighting Department

The members of the board held a brief session as a board of equalization and discussed several matters pertaining to the assessment roll and at 8 o'clock met in regular session.

There was considerable discussion in regard to the small three cornered piece of land at the corner of Fourth and Brand, a quit claim deed for which the city desires to obtain. The question of transfer of the east half of Central avenue to the county for the purpose of having the whole of that thoroughfare improved by the highway commission as part of the good roads plan was also discussed. The city attorney reported progress in regard to the matter which he had taken up with the county authorities. The subject of a license ordinance occupied considerable time without anything in particular being done. The appointment of an additional referee in regard to the opening of Sixth street was referred to a committee. A report was read from the manager of the electric light department, summarized as follows:

Cash on hand July 1	$1,345.79
Expenditures for month	407.95
Balance on hand August 1	937.84
Outstanding indebtedness	147.80
Amount on hand over indebtedness	790.04

Operation Fund.

Cash on hand July 1	$ 240.67
Receipts	847.97
Total	$1,088.64
Expenditures	608.30
Balance on hand Aug. 1	$ 480.34

Principal and Interest Fund.

Cash on hand July 1	$3,850.00
Receipts from taxes	41.35
Total	$3,891.35

Expenditures.

Payments on bonds	$2,500.00
Interest paid July 1	1,350.00
Balance on hand Aug. 1	$ 41.35

The manager of the electric light department reported that he had received a communication from the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. refusing to co-operate with the city in a plan of consolidation of various wires on Fourth street belonging to the utility companies on one line of poles; referred to public works committee. A communication was received from Chas. Grist and Robt. P. McMullen requesting permission to erect a planing mill and operate the same by electric motor on lot 29 block 4; granted. By motion the Los Angeles Rubber Co. was notified that the hose ordered of that concern must be delivered within a short time or the order would be cancelled. A bid was read from Geo. B. Mock making a bid for the improvement of Franklin Court as follows: Grading, 30 cents; oiling and tamping, sq. ft., 3 1/2 cents; tamping and oiling with rock, 6c; curb, per linear foot, 27c.

The same was referred to the city engineer. The city marshal reported progress of the work in cleaning up the parkways. The committee to whom was referred the matter of securing a lot near Fourth and Brand on which to erect a small building for fire apparatus, had secured the same and executed lease, which was referred back to the committee on the suggestion of the city attorney.

The board adjourned to meet as a committee of the whole.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL EXCURSION

Thursday of last week was the day set aside for the annual picnic to Long Beach under the management of the Sunday schools of the valley and the affair was certainly a success. The number of tickets sold by the schools was 737, but that figure does not include the full attendance. The flag offered as a prize to the Sunday school selling the largest number of tickets in proportion to its average attendance, went to the First M. E. church school, which sold 246 tickets, 150 per cent of the attendance. The Presbyterians were a close second, with the Baptists coming third in percentage, although the Christian church school sold more tickets (124) than the two last named. The total attendance was about equal to that of last year, an increase from Glendale but fewer from Tropico, Burbank contributing about sixty.

The committee thanks the business men of Glendale for closing their places of business. The Pacific Electric has not yet expressed its thanks but they surely can afford to do so.

VISIT OF GRAND MASTER OF INDEPENDENT ORDER OF ODD FELLOWS TO LOCAL LODGE.

Hon. T. W. Duckworth of San Bernardino paid a visit to Glendale lodge in his official capacity and found the lodge in a most flourishing condition. The grand master was met at the depot by the officers and a committee from the local lodge and through the courtesy of Mr. E. D. Goodé, president of the Verdugo Park Electric road, was given a view of our business streets and of our park. After the return they partook of a bounteous supper at Wood's Hotel, the product of Bro. Brewster's skillful hands. The grand master was then escorted to the lodge rooms where some fifty members awaited him. At the close of a short business session, the grand master delivered a very practical, instructive and entertaining address. Bro. Roper, father in law of J. F. McIntyre and a member of Horicon, Wis., lodge, who has attended every grand lodge for 47 years, gave a short talk. Good short addresses by various brothers followed. After the close of lodge, the visitors and members partook of a banquet fit for a king, provided by the officers with the assistance of the Rebekahs.

AN ECHO OF THE PAST.

When the Dells and Elliotts were delating Lincoln Place as a street in North Glendale, Mrs. Sidney Dell got leave to name it. It made her happy to honor one whom she had worshiped as a little school girl at the outbreak of the war. Her foster parents were black abolitionists residing in Bloomington, Ill., where the Adlai Stevensons and Ewings and other leading copperheads were their social intimates, until the war estranged them. Then the copperhead school children would anger the little girl and her abolitionist companions by sneering at their hero as "Linken-stinkin." The Elliotts, as loyal Union people, were, of course, pleased with this choice of a name. But Mr. Dell's father was a slave owner and Mr. Dell was in the rebel army. What would he say? "Suits me exactly," he said; "you could not honor 'Old Abe' any more than I would."

J. WHOMES.

Candidate for Justice of the Peace for Burbank township, of which Glendale and Tropico are a part, is an old resident of Los Angeles county, having been a resident of the city of Los Angeles and engaged in business there for a greater portion of that time. For about two years he was a resident of Redondo City and City Recorder, in which position he familiarized himself with the law applying to such position and filled it with universal satisfaction. His decisions in the cases which have come up before him as Recorder of the City of Glendale have shown him to be possessed of a spirit of fairness and a determination to enforce the law.

A "FIRST-NIGHT" PARTY.

A party of Seventh street residents turned out in force Monday and made a strenuous effort to paint our Jewel City a peculiar carmine shade. The people learned that they were coming and dispersed, leaving the city for a time in the hands of the jollifiers. They took in everything, finally landing at the Glendale theater, and proved they were capital first nighters. The party included Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Usilton, Mrs. Kenny and daughter, Riffa, Mrs. E. E. Soper, Mrs. S. Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Kerker, Mrs. J. Graft, Frank Wilhelm and two nieces, Mrs. O. A. Willing, Mrs. C. R. Appenfelder.

BASEBALL.

The game at the Verdugo Park grounds on Saturday last was a walk-over for the Glendale boys who beat the Orioles by a score of 12 to 4. On Sunday it was still more one-sided for the visitors, the Remingtons scored only one run while Glendale made 14. Next Sunday the teams will be more evenly matched, when the home boys meet the Pippins, a Los Angeles aggregation which Glendale beat once by one run which was made by a lucky play in the last inning. There will be a game Saturday, but as we go to press the outside team has not been named.

Republican rally under the auspices of the Lincoln-Roosevelt Republican League will be held at K. P. hall, Glendale, Saturday evening August 13, at 8 o'clock. Following are the speakers: A. J. Wallace, Lee C. Gates and H. G. Cattell. Everybody welcome.

THE CHURCHES

CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

Services as usual morning and evening by the pastor, Rev. J. W. Utter. The subject for the morning sermon will be, "A New Heaven and a New Earth."

At the Mission Church, Pacific and Oak streets, Friday evening of next week, there will be given an Apron, Necktie and Box Social. The charge for a box will look precisely like thirty cents. Come and see.

BAPTIST CHURCH.

Rev. F. D. Finn, of Los Angeles, will preach at both morning and evening services next Sunday. All who heard him last Sunday were pleased. It is now thought the church can arrange for him to preach for us during the month of August, which will be the time the pastor-elect will be on the field to take up the work.

ON THE HEIGHTS OF REALIZATION.

Service will be conducted August 14 at 11 o'clock at the Home of Truth, 432 West Fourth street, by Rev. W. W. Raymond, of Los Angeles. Subject of discourse, "On the Heights of Realization." Wednesday evening meetings led by Miss Suzanne Dean, of the Home of Truth, Los Angeles. All interested are invited.

ST. MARK'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

Divine services for Sunday, Aug. 14, twelfth Sunday after Trinity: Holy communion, 7:30 a. m. Morning prayer and sermon, 11 a. m. Sunday school in the parish hall, 10 a. m. A Bible class will be started Sunday at 10 a. m. in the parish hall. Every person desiring instruction in the Acts of the Holy Apostles will receive a hearty welcome by the minister, Rev. R. O. Mackintosh. No evening service.

WORK OF THE FORESTRY DEPARTMENT.

The United States Department of Agriculture is using this year ten tons of seed on the national forests, representing altogether about 300,000,000 seeds. Most of the seed is sown broadcast, some of it planted with a corn planter where the trees are to stand. Birds and rodents consume vast quantities of the seed, and after the young trees appear, the rabbits and other small animals get a large proportion of them. Securing the seeds, particularly from the tall pines, is a slow process, and the removal of the seeds from the cones, after the latter are secured, is very tedious work.

OLD LADIES PARTY.

Mrs. C. W. Young of Castle Cragg, gave an afternoon party to a company of elderly lady friends one day last week which was a most enjoyable affair to all concerned. They first took a trolley ride to Verdugo Park, then returning to Mrs. Young's were entertained with refreshments. Not the least enjoyable feature of the afternoon's program was the delightful rendering of old-time favorite songs by Mrs. Wessner, a guest at Castle Cragg, who for several years was connected with Grand Opera work.

VALLEY PICNIC.

The Glendale Valley Improvement Association gives a picnic at Verdugo Park on Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 5. There will be an interesting program of sports, music, dancing, speaking, etc. It is to be a get-together, old-fashioned social affair, and everybody and his family is expected to attend. The new electric line to the park makes it easily and cheaply accessible, and the affair should be a great success.

DEATH OF W. A. SIMMONS.

Mr. W. A. Simmons passed away at his home on Lomita avenue Sunday morning, August 7th. His next birthday would have marked 70 years of active life. Memorial services were conducted by Rev. F. A. Field at Pulliam parlors, Tuesday afternoon, interment being made at Forest Lawn. Mr. Simmons was a member of the G. A. R. and had been a resident of Glendale about four years.

BORN.

To Mr. and Mrs. Platt M. Corbaley, of East Sixth street, on Monday, Aug. 8, a daughter. Mother and child doing well.

GLENDALE, CAL., AUGUST 12, 1910

Next Tuesday the voters of California will experiment with a new playing—the direct primary; watch the wheels go round!

Perhaps it would be better not to take Mrs. Longworth so seriously as the good ladies of the W. C. T. U. have done, but at the same time the young lady who seems to think that because of her high social position, she can make a show of herself and retain the respect of the people while doing so, has none of our sympathy. Her right to smoke cigarettes is not questioned; she has a right to do things more disreputable if she wants to, but must pay for the privilege and the price is the respect of a large number of her fellow citizens of both sexes.

McLACHLAN FOR CONGRESS.

We believe it would be a serious mistake to dispense with the services of Hon. James McLachlan as our representative in congress. Granting the possibility of electing a man in some ways the superior of Mr. McLachlan, it would take him years to attain to the position on important committees which our present representative occupies. The average congressman has comparatively little influence. Mr. McLachlan is far ahead of the average member, by reason of his years of service, if for nothing else. Let us keep in his place the representative who has done much for Southern California and is in a position to enable him to do much more.

The NEWS is in receipt of a letter from Frederick Baker, Esq., our city attorney, commending Judge W. R. Harvey, one of the Superior Judges of our county, who is a candidate for the nomination of the Republican party for the same position. Mr. Baker concludes by saying that he believes it for the best interests of the county that Judge Harvey be continued on the bench. Knowing nothing to the contrary in regard to Judge Harvey, we cheerfully give to the public Mr. Baker's recommendation in the matter.

A Glendale citizen who has interested certain parties in a project for the building of a large tourist hotel in Glendale is informed by them that they will not take hold of the enterprise at all unless the present city ordinance in regard to the sale and use of wine, beer and other similar beverages is amended so as to permit of the issuance of a hotel liquor license. The city trustees very properly refuse to consider any proposed change in the ordinance, but are willing to submit the matter to the voters whenever a petition bearing a sufficient number of signatures is presented to them. Nearly all the other smaller cities in Southern California have had to meet this question, and Glendale need not hope to escape. And the result ultimately is always the same, the right of the hotels to serve liquor with meals, is acknowledged and the local ordinances made to conform thereto.

There is much in the breezy independence of Mr. Albert G. Spalding of San Diego that commends itself to us and it is a matter of regret that he did not get into the senatorial contest sooner. We do not enthrone over any aspirant for that high position who cannot point to a more than usually good record in the service of the state, but as there seem to be in California no aspirants of that description, we shall have to content ourselves with a choice from the available. Mr. Spalding seems to have been thrust into the contest by his friends, and his independence of character is such that he is giving them very little assistance. A candidate under these circumstances has almost no chance of winning. Thomas R. Bard, the most independent senator that this state has ever sent to Washington in all the years of its history, was defeated for re-election solely because of his indifference and refusal to do anything to help his own cause. He had a host of loyal friends among the people at large but no political machine to work effectively for his re-election, and Frank Flint, who was unknown outside of a limited circle of lawyers and personal friends and had the backing of the Southern Pacific influence, became senator.

MICKEY, TONY AND JAKE.

Hod carrying in San Francisco is a profession, not a mere job of day's work, if you please, but one of the real learned professions where Mickey, Tony and Jake collaborate to skillfully combine according to scientific formula, the chemical elements found in lime, sand and water, which after attaining a proper consistency, result in a product known to the savants who produce it as mortar. The learned professors, Mickey, Tony and Jake, having devoted many years of scientific delving into the hidden mysteries, to the task of uplifting humanity by means of shovel and hod or mayhap a wheelbarrow and winchlass, have made themselves a necessity to the upbuilding of the city on the bay, so that when the attempt is made to lay one brick upon another, the function is dependent for success upon the scientific trio and as remuneration for their services these gentlemen have been receiving the beggarly stipend of five dollars per day!

The nature of their learned efforts, however, requires that they spend eight hours and a half per day at their arduous task, but they object in their gentle San Francisco way to the extra half hour, and now, emulating the example of their inferiors who are willing to toil in other fields of endeavor for two or three dollars per day, they have vulgarly struck for double pay for that half hour!

The unreasonable and unpatriotic contractors have refused to grant the demand of Professors Mickey and Tony and Jake, hence there is stagnation in the building industry in San Francisco! And the mayor of that goodly union-infested city, owing to his natural love for the sciences, is aiding them in every way possible by harassing the men who had the temerity to imagine that liberty prevails in San Francisco just as it does in the United States! It is an interesting situation and promises to furnish material for many learned essays as to the unappreciative spirit that prevails among mere contractors and other men of affairs who find in their efforts to build up a city that they must first of all secure the approval and hearty co-operation of Mickey and Tony and Jake, regardless of expense!

STANTON FOR GOVERNOR.

The NEWS expects in the coming campaign to support Republican candidates and principles. The anti-primary contest is a fight for preference only. The NEWS has a strong preference for P. A. Stanton as the Republican nominee for governor. We prefer him not because he is the candidate of Southern California, although that counts for much, but because of our knowledge of his legislative career and confidence in his integrity and ability. We doubt very much if any one of his opponents in the present contest would have handled the anti-Japanese proposed legislation as fearlessly, patriotically and successfully as did Mr. Stanton in his position as speaker of the assembly at the last legislature. By that one act he proved himself to be possessed of unusual strength of character and to be prompted by a high sense of duty to the nation at large. Time serving politicians who will not look beyond their near-by constituency and are incapable of anything higher than mere politics, are not rare enough in our public life, and when a public official is found who has the courage of his convictions we should grapple to him with hooks of steel.

Stanton's legislative history is one continuous record of usefulness to the people, and his experience in state affairs gives him immense advantage over any novice who does not "know the game."

As for Mr. Johnson our principal objection to him is that he is practically an unknown quantity in public life. His record as a Republican is unsatisfactory and it is as a criminal lawyer alone that he is known, and the criminal lawyer's experience and easily warped methods of thought, are not calculated to fit him for an office which while principally executive, is at the same time judicial.

Mr. Anderson has a good record as a business man and citizen, but the fact that he is so acceptable to the Southern Pacific Railroad company, (which we all want to put out of politics) is against him.

Mr. Curry's affiliations should also handicap him in a race for the favor of the people. As for Mr. Ellery, his support seems to come principally from his own family. We hope to see Philip A. Stanton named as the choice of the Republican party for governor at the primary election next week.

AUGUST.

In few of the most favored places of the world is the month of August looked upon as one of the most attractive of the twelve divisions that constitute the year, but in the near-coast sections of Southern California, August brings so much that the heart desires, that it may well be looked upon as a rival of the June that Lowell has immortalized. It is the season of plenty; the fruits of the garden, the orchard and the vineyard have arrived at perfection. The farmer is gathering in the product for which he has labored and during the early hours of the day hauls it to the nearby market. Lush nature has performed her part and the trees are laden with the fruits that assuage the senses in their beauty, fragrance and flavor. The warm sunshine is tempered by the breeze that moves over the limitless stretches of ocean and the serene mountains seem to be enduring backbone of the world. The early morning hours, beginning with the dawn, constitute a period of delight to the fortunate human being who wisely turns from sluggish sleep to the joys of the new day. But if the August days are glorious what shall be said of the nights! The stars in the absence of the moon, are seen climbing up over the mountain wall and moving in their apparent course out into the great spaces of the west where they are lost sight beyond the nether rim of the earth. The shining pathway of the Milky Way stretches from the mountains clear across the dome of the sky. Directly overhead at ten o'clock is the triangle formed by the brilliant stars beyond our system, Deneb, Vega and Altair. Half way down in the west blazes the great Arcturus, brightest now of all the three thousand or so of the more or less brilliant points of light that with unassisted eyes we can see glimmering in the sky. The Great Dipper hangs high up toward the zenith.

In the south just outside and east of the Milky Way is Sagittarius, the Archer, forever aiming his arrow as the poet-astronomers of the early ages of the world would have us believe, at the Scorpion, just west of the shining highway of the stars, the bright eye of which is the brilliant Antares. Perseus, Andromeda, Cassiopea, all clustering around the North Star, with their wealth of legendary stories of the days when the gods reigned upon Olympus, hang near overhead with glory undimmed as we have reason to suppose, ever since the music of their motion through the crystal spheres made up the celestial chorus that greeted the Creator when he sent them swinging out through space, to follow each its separate pathway round the unseen center of the limitless universe.

NOTES FROM A TRAVELER.

Reno, Nev., Aug. 7, 1910.

Editor NEWS: Believing that a number of former residents will be interested in a trip I have just made to Nebraska, I am constrained to send you a few notes by the way. Leaving Glendale on Tuesday the 26th inst., my route was via Santa Fe. Clouds and freak showers of rain modified the heat as we crossed the Mohave desert, though we were told it had been 119 in Barstow the day before. At Winslow, Ariz., we were laid out fifteen hours, because a heavy rain the day previous had undermined the track about twenty miles east, and a freight train of fifty cars had gone into the ditch and was strung along for a mile. Two unusual sights in New Mexico impressed me. One was that of a genuine Indian plowing corn, and another of an Indian in paint and feathers stealing a ride on a passenger train, between the baggage car and smoker. As I had lost a day anyway, on account of the washout, I stopped off at La Junta, Colo., to get a night's rest in a real bed. The night was so hot that a room seemed like an oven, but I tried to sleep for a little while when an old-fashioned electrical storm awoke me. For about two hours the flashes and roars continued, then the rain poured in torrents, and the streets were soon rivers. About one a. m., when the rain had nearly ceased, an awful crash told me that the lightning had struck close by, and a few minutes after five reports of a pistol startled me, and the light reflected in my room called me to my window where I could see flames breaking from the roof of the opera house, just across the park, and about 100 yards away. Soon the firemen arrived, but could do nothing to check the fire. The shouts of the firemen, the crash of breaking glass and the falling walls were terrifying. One building on either side soon caught and the fire was not controlled till morning, with a loss of about $100,000. You can imagine how much sleep I had. Going via Denver and the Burlington, I arrived in Lincoln early Saturday morning. That city, where business is usually good, doesn't seem to be doing as well as usual. Merchants complain of poor trade and say the town is not growing as it should. Lincoln is a dry town, and some lay the stagnation to that fact, though I think there is nothing in it. The country, also, was "dry" and all the lawns were brown, as nobody seems to think it worth while to sprinkle them, as we do. The drought renders the appearance of the country less beautiful than it usually is at this season. The crop of wheat is good, but the corn is in a precarious state—a great deal of it is late and just beginning to tassel, and if they have had a rain by this time they will have a partial crop. If not, very little corn will be raised in Nebraska, the finest corn-producing state in the United States. I was in Omaha only long enough to change cars and depots, to the U. P. It was beastly hot all the time I was in Nebraska—mercury ranging from 90 to 96 degrees, and on my way west I noticed a thermometer in the car, which showed 88 degrees after 9 o'clock at night. And such heat—no California heat compares with it at all.

My first stop was at Salt Lake City, which is certainly one of the best towns in the West. Some fine, steel-frame office buildings are going up, which would do credit to Los Angeles. The valleys of Utah are producing fine crops this season, and the country was much prettier than the middle west. You can easily see that I am hurrying back to California, and I am free to admit that it will look mighty good to me. If you want to appreciate California, and Glendale in particular, take such a trip as I have just made. I have just reached the town of fighters and divorcees. It is quiet since the big battle, but the big arena still stands, and no telling how soon they may be able to capture another fight bonanza. For all that, it is a good town, has a bright future, and is the metropolis of Nevada.

Judge Whomes Denies

To the Editor Glendale News: A report is being circulated in Glendale and Tropic and throughout the township that I signed a petition for the pardon of Wilbur Chatnam who was sentenced in my court to six months in the county jail for indecent exposure.

I desire to deny having signed any petition whatever, although I was approached for that purpose.

It has also been stated that the present Justice of the Peace for Burbank township remarked he would have given Chatnam one year instead of six months. If he will look at section 16 in the Penal Code he will find that six months is the limit for the offense committed.

Very respectfully,
J. WHOMES, City Recorder.

Judge William P. James, of the Superior Court of Los Angeles County, who was a prominent candidate for the Republican nomination for Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, has just been appointed by the governor of the state to fill the vacant place on the court of appeals caused by the death of Justice Taggart. Judge James has thus been twice honored by appointment by governors of California. Six years ago, Governor Pardee appointed him to serve on the superior bench, and the people elected him in the year following to a full term in that court, which he was filling when the appointment came to him to the appellate court position. As the appellate court sits in Los Angeles constantly, Judge James will not be obliged to make any change in his place of residence, as he would have been obliged to do had he gone to the supreme court. This makes the office very agreeable to him, as he has lived in Los Angeles County thirty-seven years, and was reluctant to make any change which would take him away from his friends and Southern California. As there is some confusion in the law respecting the length of an appointive term, and as the time has gone by when party nominations can be made at the August primary election, Judge James' name will appear on the ballot to be used at the general election in November as an independent candidate to succeed himself in the appellate court. The bar is practically unanimous in endorsing his appointment.

MEETS WITH GENERAL APPROVAL.

W. O. Welch's candidacy for re-election as County Tax Collector has met with general approval.

This county now ranks among the largest in the country, both as to the number of parcels of land and as to the number of individual taxpayers. To handle this great volume of business requires a person of recognized business ability, and one able to comprehend the requirements in advance.

Mr. Welch has proven himself to be eminently fitted for this important office. During the seven and one-half years of his incumbency he has collected and accounted for over $26,000,000, every cent of which has been exactly apportioned to the different funds according to the levy made for each.

His efficiency has been repeatedly recognized, and he has been commended by each grand jury. An extract of the report of the grand jury filed June 14, 1910, is as follows:

"This conduct of this office is commended as to efficiency in work performed and system of operation. The increase in the volume of business transacted by this office has been very large, but we find that the tax collector has kept pace with the growth of his office in all respects."

Those who favor electing capable men to public office should vote for Mr. Welch's nomination August 16.

Last week Mrs. D. W. Hunt went to Anaheim to attend the funeral of her little niece, Dorothy Skinner, the year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merton Skinner. The little one was a namesake of Mrs. Hunt's daughter, Dorothy.

A Modest Request. An impeccably dressed gentleman the other day when walking along Piccadilly felt a movement in his pocket, and, clapping his hand thereto, seized the wrist of the thief. He drew forth the erring member, and, looking at it with supreme disgust, he released it, saying, with a grimace of disgust, "For heaven's sake, my good man, go and wash your hands before you put them in a gentleman's pocket again!"—London Tatler.

Made Him Feel Old. "What's the matter?" "Oh, nothing much." "But you look as if you had something serious on your mind." "Well, if you insist on knowing, a boy who was named after me has just become engaged to be married. How time flies!"—Chicago Record-Herald.

The Dollar Mark. "Have you seen the Washington monument?" "Yes," replied the New Yorker. "It's a pretty tall building, but what's the good of it without any offices for rent?"—Washington Star.

Economy. Husband—Excuse me, dear, but don't you cook much more for dinner than we can use? Wife—Of course! If I didn't how could I economize by utilizing leftover dishes?—Cleveland Leader.

Not New. "Electricity isn't a modern discovery. It is as old as the flood." "How do you make that out?" "Why, didn't Noah have to have ark lights?"

The parents of little Keith Tatlow are highly encouraged over the condition of the little man since the specialist has taken him in hand. He has so far improved as to be able to move his limbs and although one limb may be shorter than the other, the doctor promises a well, strong boy in the end.

Mr. R. H. Wells of West Fourth street, returned from Ocean Side Sunday with a small catch and a large fish story. Mr. Wells was fortunate enough to hook one of the largest surf fish he had ever seen. PAINFUL ACCIDENT TO YOUNG INVESTIGATOR.

Richard Ward, the nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. I. Ward of Vine street, lost his thumb and two fingers last Friday morning when attempting to turn a dynamite cap into a firecracker. On the previous evening, Mrs. Ward, driving down Sycamore canyon, overtook a man walking towards Glendale and generously offered him a ride. The offer was accepted and the man went with her as far as Second and Adams streets. The next morning Mrs. Sanford of Sycamore road, whom Mrs. Ward had visited, telephoned and said that Mr. Kennedy, the man she had assisted the evening before, had had dynamite caps tied in his handkerchief and four of them had been lost out in Mrs. Ward's wagon.

Mrs. Ward accompanied by Richard immediately went out and began a search, but no finding any, Mrs. Ward returned to the house. She had just left when Richard discovered one of the caps. It was about one and a half inches long and as thick as an ordinary lead pencil. Upon finding it, he was inspired with the bright idea of using it for a fizzle as he had previously used firecrackers. He dug part of the dynamite out with a fork and then laid the cap on the door step and lit a match to it. Contrary to his expectations the dynamite instead of going forward, kicked backward, mangle his thumb and two fingers. One piece of the cap entered his left eyelid and another his upper right lid, the sight being spared by a miraculous way. His face and chest and left leg were severely burned.

Twenty minutes after the accident the little fellow was on the operating table attended by Dr. Thompson of Burbank and Dr. Hunt of Los Angeles. It was impossible to deliver an anesthetic because of heart trouble, and the lad was conscious every minute during the two hours in which the doctors were removing his three fingers and putting in the stitches. His bravery and fortitude while undergoing suffering were remarkable and might be a lesson to many older patients.

He is doing as well as could be expected and is improving every day. The question now is where are the other three caps?
